California Compost & Recycling Law for Businesses & Multi-Family Properties

When compostable materials like food scraps, paper, and plant trimmings break down in landfills, they produce methane, a potent greenhouse gas and contributor to climate change.

This California state law (SB 1383) helps keep compostable materials out of landfills. In Alameda County, the Organics Reduction & Recycling Ordinance is in place to help residents and businesses comply with the regulations set by the state.

The local law is implemented through a partnership between the City of San Leandro, ACI, StopWaste, and Alameda County Environmental Health Departments.

Placing food scraps in the compost bin instead of the garbage helps fight climate change.
